To Whom It May Concern:

Ravi Adhiyappan worked for Cap Gemini Ernst & Young as a subcontractor from December 2nd 2003 for approximately four months in the Coca-Cola Fountain Division, Atlanta. He was engaged to serve as the Team Lead for Job Costing in J.D Edwards OneWorld XE.

During the period of employ in the Coke project Ravi demonstrated tremendous initiative, enthusiasm, motivation and interpersonal skills. His well-rounded experience in JD Edwards Job Cost, Fixed Assets, GL Structure, Item Master, Procurement and Report Writing was very valuable for the Job Cost implementation. Ravi excelled at developing alternative scenarios to solving a problem and facilitating discussions with the Coke team to arrive at the best solution.

As of this writing, the J.D. Edwards project has been put on hold due to a strategic reorganization of Coca-Cola North America, including the Coca-Cola Fountain Division. Despite this, Ravi has made valuable contributions to the engagement by refining the future state vision for Job Costing at Coca-Cola. Regardless of the direction chosen by the senior management of Coca-Cola, the knowledge developed by Ravi and the Job Cost team will no doubt benefit the organization as they work to implement a Job Cost solution.

Overall, I find Ravi to be very well rounded consultant and a very good team player. Please accept this as a personal reference to consider him for employment opportunities.

Thank You.
